By this system any lady can cut her own dress to fit exactly, and her "durzie" can make it up to fit as well as one by Worth. No trying on is necessary; simplicity, beauty, exactness, and economy characterize this valuable invention, and any lady having once mastered the simple details of this indispensable and lady like accomplishment will never regret the investment she has made. TREACHER AND COMPANY'S UNRIVALLED ÆRATED WATERS.

THE importance of ÆRATED WATERS being prepared with

PURE WATER AND UNADULTERATED MATERIALS

is frequently overlooked by the Public, and disagreeable and injurious results have often followed the use of Beverages prepared by petty makers, selling at low rates by the aid of second-hand corks and inferior materials, and who, from their ignorance, pay no attention to the necessary working details, and the cleanliness of their factories and appliances.

We extract the following significant paragraph from the work of Deputy Surgeon-General Moore, entitled "Family Medicine in India" :—

Many persons are under the impression that by drinking Ærated Water they will escape the ills so often the consequence of an impure water-supply. This, unfortunately, is far from being the case. For Soda Water Manufacturers in India are sometimes not very particular what kind of Water they use.

From the above it will be seen how extremely important it is that Manufacturers should possess Chemical and Technical knowledge, in order to ensure perfect purity of the Water and Chemicals employed, and that all Organic Substances entering into the composition of POTABLE WATERS, such as Sugar and Fruit, be of the best quality and in good condition; indeed, it may correctly be said that it is impossible for any but CHEMISTS to produce Ærated Waters answering all HYGIENIC CONDITIONS.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

THURSDAY EVENING, JAN. 29.

SHIPMENTS of Cotton and other produce have been on a slightly larger scale lately to complete January engagements, but the general tenor of our leading markets has continued dull and adverse to the developement of new business. In the case of Linseed and Rapeseed short supplies account for the limited extent of transactions, but of Wheat the arrivals are very free and of Cotton, receipts although light are more than double our exports, so that it is to the dullness of the home demand we owe the existing stagnation in these articles. When that demand may revive there is nothing on the face of things to indicate, but as stocks here accumulate prices will be sure to come down to a level at which business will be practicable under any circumstances. Freights have weakened down latterly both for ready shipment and for forward, 25s. to 26s. 3d. being the current figures, but for February loading the supply of tonnage is light, and 23s. 9d. is quoted for that month open charter. Imports all round are steady, and for Metals and Coals prices rather tend dearer, but in Goods and Yarns clearances are only about an average. Money has advanced in value depressing Government Paper and Shares, but it has had no effect on Sterling Exchange which under the influence of a limited Export trade and declining Silver has given way ½d. per rupee during the week.

MONEY.—The last return of the Bank of Bombay showed a decrease in the Cash Balance of 14 lakhs, and on the strength of this the directors at their weekly board meeting yesterday advanced their rates of discount 1 per cent, making the minimum for loans secured by Government Paper 5 per cent. per annum. This has necessarily tended to enhance the value of money in the open market, which otherwise continues remarkably easy. Indeed accommodation outside is still available at 4 per cent, and unless business generally shows a very material increase in activity, there is every appearance of money remaining cheap for sometime to come.

EXCHANGE.—The cause of Sterling Exchange this week has been steadily downwards, and we close to a decline of ½d. from the rates quoted for last mail. A fall of ½d. per oz. in the London quotation for Bar Silver caused the market to open on Saturday with a very week feeling at a reduction of 1-32d., say 1s. 7 3-32d. for Demand Bank Bills, and 1s. 7 13-32d. for 3 months' Credits. On Monday a further fall of ½d. in Silver induced an additional drop of 1-32d. which was repeated again on Tuesday and Wednesday; and this morning on learning that the biddings for Council Drafts in London yesterday had only resulted in 1s. 15-16d. for Bills, and 1s. 7d. for telegraphic transfers, there were indications of a further giving way one Bank for a time naming 1s. 7 9-32d. for 3 months' Credits. The tone steadied a little during the day however, and at the close quotations for ready Bills are :—

		per rupee.
Bank Bills on demand	1s. 7d.
Do. Telegraphic	1s. 6 15-16d.	"
Do. Three months' sight	1s. 7 3-16d.	"
Credits, do. do.	1s. 7 5-16d.	"
France, do. do.	2·04	"

The feeling at the moment as we have said is steady, the result of rather more private paper having come out for sale consequent on the commencement of January shipments; nor is it unlikely that we may see some little recovery as a reaction from the somewhat rapid decline of the past week. Neither the position of the market, however, nor its surroundings have any inherent strength so long as our export trade remains in its present state of quietude. Calcutta which for some time past has been a source of support, now pretty well follows our lead, China is also a weakening influence, and Silver notwithstanding the decline in price seems as plentiful as ever, shipments being advised by the telegrams in to-day of £90,000 for this port and £10,000 for Calcutta.

On Calcutta the rate for demand drafts is ¼ per cent. premium, for 60 day's sight ¼ per cent. discount.

GOVERNMENT PAPER.—Rates opened at our last Thursday's quotations, of Rs. 98½ for Fours, and Rs. 101 for Fours-and-a-half, but on Monday with lower quotations from London and Calcutta, Fours declined to Rs. 98 3-16d. No change took place until yesterday, when the advance in the Bank of Bombay rate induced a decline to Rs. 98, which is the closing quotation to-day. Fours-and-a-half have ranged between Rs. 100¼ and Rs. 101, but are quite nominal.

SHARES.—There is a total absence of speculative activity just now, the business in shares being almost entirely confined to the operations of the brokers amongst themselves. Banks are all unchanged, Bank of Bombays being firm at Rs. 765, Nationals at Rs. 99. Spinning and Weaving Mills as a rule have been dull and declining, but just at the close there is a partial return of steadiness consequent on the weaker appearence of the Cotton market. There is little likelihood however, of such a decline in the raw staple taking place as would enable any, but the best managed mills to pay on present prices for Goods and Yarns, and we fear, therefore, the industry is likely to remain to some extent under a cloud until affairs in China assume a more settled basis. The fluctuations of the week have resulted in an advance of Rs. 20 in Great Eastern and Jevraj Balloo, Rs. 10 in Morarjee Goculdass, and Rs. 5 in Khandeish and Connaught. These, however, are exceptions to the general rule a decline having taken place of 100 in Ripon, Rs. 80 in Mahalukshmi, Rs. 30 in Central India and City, Rs. 25 in National and Queen, Rs. 20 in Budnaira, Khutao Mackonjee and People of India, Rs. 15 in Dhurrumsey Rs. 10 in Bombay United, Prince of Wales and Naigaum, and Rs. 5 in Coorla Gordon, Imperial, Manockjee Petit, Oriental and Parell. Empress, James Greaves, Albert Edward Leapold and Anglo-Indian, all maintain their previous value. Press Companies are generally dull, Akbar showing a decline of Rs. 75, Colaba of Rs. 50, Prince of Wales Rs. 30, Mercantile and Mofussil Rs. 2½ per share. In the Miscellaneous list, we notice a recovery in Bombay Burmah Trading from Rs. 4,125 to Rs. 4,200. Badham, Pile & Co. are firm at Rs. 165, Bombay Ice Co. are Rs. 2 better at Rs. 108. Flour Mills are firm, Bombay at Rs. 590, an advance of Rs. 5, Bapty Bros. at Rs. 204 and Western India at Rs. 107, an advance of Rs. 2.

IMPORTS.

PIECE-GOODS.—It is difficult to report anything new of the market. The off-take from the bazaar remains on about the same average level, and prices with a few special exceptions are without change. From first hands and in the way of firm offers very little new business, comparatively speaking, has been passing the decline in Exchange being an adverse influence, whilst Manchester makes few concessions notwithstanding the dullness of Cotton. Stocks are large, more especially of the standard qualities of Grey Goods, but we are now entering an interval when supplies will be on a more moderate scale, and this will afford dealers an opportunity of getting into a better relative position. In the ong run, with the promise of good crops upcountry prospects are not unfavourable.

TWIST.—For imported Yarns the inquiry is slow and prices quite unchanged. Local Spinnings meet a poor request, the business of the week being put at about 2,000 packages and values are generally the same.

METALS.—Copper—With a rather better inquiry prices have improved As. 4 to As. 8 per cwt. Brasiers are now quoted at Rs. 37-8 to Rs. 38 per cwt. Yellow Metal is also firm with a like improvement, say to Rs. 31-8 per cwt. for Brasiers. Iron is steady but unchanged. Spelter is lower by As. 8 per cwt.

COALS.—Slightly weaker freights homeward have induced a corresponding firmness outward, and the demand at the same time proving a shade more active prices have recovered As. 4 to As. 8 per cwt. from the lowest point. For near at hand we quote Davison's Rs. 16½, Cardiff Rs. 16½, January shipment Rs. 16, and February Rs. 15½ per ton alongside.

EXPORTS.

COTTON.—Owing to short receipts at the American ports and slightly firmer accounts from Liverpool, a stronger tone became apparent in the market last mail-day, and gradually gained ground until Tuesday, when a rise from the lowest point of about Rs. 4 to Rs. 5 per candy had been established. Since then, however, a reaction has set in consequent on weaker telegrams from home, and prices have lost about Rs. 2 to Rs. 3 of the previous rise.

A fair extent of ready buying has been done during the week to cover January shipments, and from Saturday to Monday considerable forward transactions took place in Dholleras, but all round the market has been the reverse of active, the demand especially from the Continent having been shy in the extreme.

Receipts are slightly larger this week, but still keep well behind last season, the total since 1st January showing a deficiency of 66,000 bales, whilst the exports are 50,000 bales behind. The smaller arrivas are mainly attributable to a short crop of Bengal, and many people are of opinion that they will be compensated for by heavier receipts later on. That may be the case when Broach and Dholleras come forward freely in April-May, but in the meantime Omras evidently are not going to do much towards making up the deficiency, or we should have had larger supplies ere now.

Stocks on the green keep very light, as although the exports are less than half of the receipts the difference is largely accounted for by local consumption which, notwithstanding the unfavorable state of the times, is on the increase, several new Mills having lately opened or are on the point of opening.

The movements of Cotton to date show the following comparisons with the two previous years :—

	1885.	1884.	1883.
Receipts.
From the week	26,502	34,756	31,094
Since 1st January	53,842	149,003	1,58,959

Since 1st January	3,673	7,164	6,280

The following are to-day's quotations for Cotton (full-pressed) with the equivalents in Sterling, Cost and Freight to Liverpool via Canal, without Commission :—

WHEAT.—With dull advices from home and continued large supplies from the districts the market has been very weak and prices are partially As. 4 per candy lower, whilst weaker freights and exchange account for as much more. We quote :—No. 1 Soft White Rs. 23·8 to Rs. 24, Laskari Rs. 19 to Rs. 20, Khatha Rs. 17 to Rs. 18 per candy.

SEEDS.—Linseed is firm at Rs. 6-1 to Rs. 6-2 per cwt. for old ready and Rs. 5-10 to Rs. 5-11 for New Crop future delivery. In Rapeseed ready there is nothing doing, and the quotations are quite nominal at Rs. 6-6 to Rs. 6-8 for Yellow Gujarat and Rs. 6-2 to Rs. 6-5 for Yellow Cawnpore. New Crop of the former for April delivery is quoted at Rs. 6-9 per cwt. Gingelly is coming forward freely and finds a ready sale at rather higher prices, say Rs. 36 to Rs. 38-8 per candy, according to quality.

DEFECTIVE OR FAILING SIGHT.

THE sense of sight is so valuable that the importance of perfect and carefully adjusted spectacles can scarcely be overrated; although the wearing of single eye-glasses should be strictly avoided, we have the highest medical authority confirmed by daily experience, that imperfect glasses, together with the haphazard plan of selection generally employed, are frequent causes of irremediable injury to the sight; and as no present economy can compensate for such a loss, it behoves all to be cautious how they are tempted to use the common pebble or glass spectacles now so generally sold.

For the guidance of those who are using pebble spectacles, it may be stated that when the pebbles are cut against the grain, and not polished on the principle which has been universally declared the most appropriate, based on scientific research, they are injurious to the sight.

Unadvisable as the unnecessary wearing of spectacles undoubtedly is, the common notion that their use should be postponed to the utmost is moved beyond dispute to be a grave mistake.

Being in possession of all the optical instruments taken over by us from Dr. A. Meikle, we are not only in a position to suit the eye sight to perfection, but to supply different accommodations for each eye which so frequently are needed.

The Bombay Gazette

FRIDAY, JANUARY 30, 1885.

WE publish to-day two ample and independent accounts of the fighting near Metamm eh They relieve, but they do not altogether remove, the anxiety which prevailed during the six days which passed without news from Sir Herbert Stewart's column. Whatever the risks of the near future may be, we know that as recently as last Saturday the force had escaped mishap, that it had reached the Nile below Metammeh, that it had there entrenched itself, and that it had already established communication with Khartoum. The achievements of this small force had therefore up to that point been creditable and substantial. But its position still forbids the belief that it has got through all its difficulties and its dangers. To-day's telegrams, indeed, abundantly confirm the estimate which we formed some days ago of the risk with which the enterprise has been, and still is, surrounded. The value of a victory is better indicated in the events that come after than in the most truthful of bulletins from the battle-field; and we can best understand the Battle of Abuklea in the light of the account that is now given of what has happened since. Very plainly indeed does the later news indicate that "scotched but not killed" was the fate of the formidable hordes of rebels which fled before Sir Herbert Stewart at Abuklea on Saturday week. We heard nothing of what became of them, and it is now clear that they were so far from disabled that they hovered around the flanks of the British force for the remainder of the march towards Metammeh, constantly harassing them, and at length bringing on something like a pitched battle. The telegrams are not quite explicit on the point, but it seems all but certain that the rebels, to use the characteristic phrase of one of the historians of the Seven Years' War, "hung upon the skirts" of the desert column all the way from the wells of Abuklea to the banks of the Nile. This appears to have lasted for two days—until, in fact, Metammeh had been sighted. At a distance of four miles from that town the column was halted, and preparations were made for action. Apparently while superintending the construction of a zareba for the safe keeping of the wounded during the fight, the General, who at Abuklea had had a horse shot under him, was so severely wounded that he had to resign the command to Sir Charles Wilson. The fighting then became severe. Our special telegram speaks of the enormous numbers of the enemy who, with their religious leaders at their head, charged at the British, who, as at Abuklea, advanced in square formation. The onslaught, however, did not tell with such effect as that which two days before had broken the left side of the square at Abuklea. Not only did the square remain intact, but the enemy never got within thirty yards of it. Yet in spite of this the losses of the rebels were greatly in excess of those at the previous battle. Out of a force estimated at seven thousand, thirteen hundred are reported to have been killed, while on our side twenty were killed and seventy wounded. Lord Wolseley's earlier telegram was nearly silent concerning the losses. But it was evident that a battle in which the commander had been wounded, and two special correspondents had been killed and one wounded, could not have been gained at trifling cost.

The first result of the battle was to clear the way to the Nile, where our troops entrenched themselves at Gubat, about four miles south of Metammeh. The reason assigned for taking up a position there, instead of at Metammeh, as was originally intended, will not pass without comment. There are two thousand rebels at Metammeh while at Shendy, on the opposite shore of the river, there is a weak garrison, and Sir Charles Wilson did not think that the capture of the place would repay the cost of taking it by assault. This is a prudential consideration which all will appreciate. But the determination to leave Metammeh alone seems, like so many other of the circumstances of the campaign at this stage, to show with what extreme care the British commander is husbanding his strength. The position, in truth, of a force which, after defeating a horde of fanatics overwhelming in numbers, is unable to pursue them, and which has two hostile garrisons four miles off in its rear, is scarcely as secure as it might be. Such is the position of the little army which has just fought its way across the desert. To what extent it has been weakened we can roughly estimate. The casualties at Abuklea reduced its strength from fifteen hundred to an effective force of little more than thirteen hundred, and the march thence, and the battle by the way, in which even the General and others who are not usually in the thickest of the fight did not escape, must have made a rather serious addition to the losses. It is only too easy, therefore, to account for the resolution to leave Metammeh for the present in the rebels' keeping—a resolution plainly inconsistent with a consciousness of perfect strength. Meantime, everything that can be done at head-quarters is being done to strengthen the force and prepare it for a further advance. Sir Redvers Buller is going to Gubat to take the place of the disabled Sir Herbert Stewart who has been raised to the rank of Major-General for his services, and the two regiments which are on their way there will bring up the desert column to more than double its original strength. Thus far, then, all has gone well, or at least as well as those who fairly faced the risks of the enterprise could reasonably have expected. The campaign has in many of its aspects been amongst the hardest on record. Nothing could have been more stubborn than the forces of nature which the troops have had to overcome, unless it were the resistance of the men whom they have encountered. Taking together their labours on the Nile and their fightings in the desert, Lord Wolseley's army have done a unique work, whose praises will be world-wide and enduring.

And yet it is impossible to think of the raison d'être of the expedition without regretting that such sacrifices as it has entailed should ever have been

TELEGRAMS.

THE RELIEF OF KHARTOUM.

SEVERE FIGHTING: GREAT LOSS OF THE ENEMY.

MR CAMERON KILLED.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)
LONDON, JAN. 28.

The anxiously awaited tidings of the progress of General Stewart's force arrived this afternoon. From this it appears that although the victory on the 17th, which enabled the troops to occupy the wells at Abuklea, placed the force within thirty miles of the Nile, their road onwards was stubbornly contested.

The enemy at first confined themselves to harassing the advance, using all the tactics of desert warfare. Notwithstanding the obstructiveness of the Mahdi's forces, the British soldiers found themselves on the morning of Monday the 19th within sight of the banks of the Nile.

The enemy made a determined effort to stop further progress, and advanced to the attack in great strength. A severe action ensued, and General Stewart was severely wounded inside the zareba that had been constructed. He was obliged to relinquish the command. This devolved on Sir Charles Wilson, under whom the advance was continued later in the day.

Adopting their usual practice, the rebels attempted to charge the square, rushing towards it in enormous numbers. Their terrific onslaught was stopped by the deadly fire of the troops. Not a single Arab reached within thirty yards of the square, and five of the Emirs leading them were among the killed.

The march was then continued; and at Gubat, a post on the bank of the river south of Metammeh, the force safely entrenched themselves. During a reconnaissance afterwards made it was ascertained that Metammeh was so strongly held that its capture would not compensate for the sacrifice the action would involve, and the garrison has therefore been undisturbed.

Nuari Pacha arrived at this timely moment with four steamers from Khartoum. He was able to render great assistance to Sir Charles Wilson. In accordance with an arrangement made between Lord Wolseley and General Gordon, Sir Charles Wilson left for Khartoum on the 24th, taking with him in two steamers a detachment of the Sussex Regiment.

The force left in occupation of Gubat report that there is abundance of fodder for the cattle.

Another message has been received from General Gordon, who wrote on the 29th December that the city could hold out for years.

No details of our losses have yet been received, but it is telegraphed that Lord St. Vincent and Lieutenant Guthrie, of the Artillery, are dead, and that the small band of newspaper correspondents accompanying the force has suffered severely. Mr. Cameron, of the Standard, and Mr. Herbert, the representative of the Morning Post, appear to have been killed outright in the action of the 19th, when Mr. Burleigh, of the Daily Telegraph, was also wounded.

LATER.

Further telegrams received here from the Soudan show that the fighting has been most severe, and that it was only by an unconquerable determination not to be beaten that General Stewart's force was able to make any progress and to gain the victory.

As the force continued to penetrate into the desert, the enemy continued to gather strength, until on the morning of the 19th they were over seven thousand strong.

It was then that they changed their mode of warfare. Previously they had confined themselves to simply harassing General Stewart's force, but now they made a determined stand.

As the seven thousand Arabs closed upon them, our men hastily assumed the square formation, and received the attack with a courage that nothing could daunt.

The determination and the intrepidity with which the Arabs attempted over and over again to break the square proved them to be a formidable, though a reckless, enemy.

Nothing could have been more admirable than the steadiness and the coolness with which our men received their onslaughts and repelled their attacks. Each volley told with terrible effect upon the enemy, bringing down numbers of dead and wounded.

It was a short but a terrible battle. The Martini-Henry was fearfully destructive, and when the vanquished enemy retired from the field of battle they left behind them thirteen hundred of their dead.

But the victory was not gained without great loss on our side. Twenty of our men were killed and sixty wounded.

Among the wounded were Lord Airlie and Lord Somerset. Nothing has yet been received as to the extent or nature of their injuries.

[REUTER'S TELEGRAM.]

CAIRO, JAN. 28.

Lord Wolseley's telegram received here to-day states that sharp fighting has taken place between the force under General Stewart and the rebels since the 17th instant, resulting in the establishment by our troops of a strongly fortified post at Gubat, south of Metammeh.

On the morning of the 19th, when within four miles of the Nile, the enemy advanced in great strength. General Stewart halted his force and constructed a strong zareba under a heavy fire from the enemy. During this proceeding General Stewart was wounded, and Sir Charles Wilson assumed the command. Leaving the wounded behind in the zareba, our troops then marched out to meet the enemy, and later in the afternoon the rebels, headed by several Emirs on horseback, made a charge, but were repulsed, not coming within thirty yards of our men. Five Emirs and two hundred and fifty of the enemy were killed, besides a very large number being wounded. The British loss is not stated in the telegram, but the only officer killed was Quarter-Master Lima. Mr. Cameron, the correspondent of the Standard, and Mr. Herbert, correspondent of the Morning Post, were both killed.

A reconnaissance made afterwards by our troops towards Metammeh showed that the place was fortified and occupied by two thousand rebels, and that a weak garrison held Shendy. Sir Charles Wilson did not consider it would be worth the loss it would entail to attempt any assault.

During another reconnaissance on the 21st four steamers under the command of Nuari Pasha from Khartoum reached Gubat, and landed men and guns there. Sir Charles Wilson, with two steamers containing a detachment of the Sussex Regiment, left for Khartoum on the 24th.

Major-General Sir R. Buller will leave Korti to-morrow for Gubat, and will take command of the forces there.

The 19th Regiment have already started for Gubat, and the 50th are preparing to follow.

General Stewart is progressing favourably.

The latest news from General Gordon was delivered by a messenger who left Khartoum on December 29, when he was described as being "quite right."

LATER.

Further details of the recent fighting near Metammeh state that the British loss since the 17th instant is 21 killed and 104 wounded. Amongst those killed are Lieutenant C. Crutchley, of the 1st Battalion Fusiliers; Lieutenant J. D. O. Snow, of the 13th Regiment; and Lieutenant C. P. Livingstone, of the 42nd Regiment. Lords Airlie and St. Vincent, and Lieutenant Guthrie, have died of their wounds received on the 17th instant.

The number of the enemy in the engagement of the 19th was seven thousand, and their loss in killed and wounded on that occasion was two thousand.

The Queen has telegraphed to Lord Wolseley her thanks for the gallant conduct of her troops, and the telegram adds that Colonel Sir Herbert Stewart has been raised to the rank of Major-General.

General Earle telegraphs that any hostility on the part of the rebels on this side of Berber is doubtful, and that the uncles of Suleman, the murderer of Colonel Stewart, have submitted.

H.E. THE GOVERNOR OF BOMBAY made the annual prize distribution to the students of the School of Art yesterday. In his address Sir James Fergusson said it would be a slur upon the character of the Government were it not active and earnest in encouraging and reviving those arts for which India had been so famous in ages past. The traces of Eastern art were to be found in every country of the West, and to-day East and West were mingling the treasures of their knowledge, and mutually aiding each other in their harmony and development. Whilst acknowledging that where there was a hard struggle for life, it was to be expected the students would turn their knowledge to a pecuniary advantage as early as possible, His Excellency expressed an earnest hope that some would not rest content with the solid advantages a mere livelihood would afford, but would deny themselves for some years in the hope if attaining a higher rank in art. Government, he hinted, might do something in this direction, and in this connexion, he referred his hearers to his successor as a man to whom science and art had been the favourite pursuits in life. An address was also delivered by the Hon. J. B. Peile on art studies and art revival, in which he spoke hopefully of the demand the approaching exhibitions may create for specimens of the best art of India.

The School of Art will be open to-day and to-morrow from ten till five to enable the public to view the articles selected for the Antwerp Exhibition.

MAJOR BISSET, the Agent to the Bombay and Baroda Railway, has left Bombay for Ajmere. He will return about the 5th of February. Mr. G. F. Mathews, C. I. E., takes charge of the Bombay office during the Agent's absence.

Midwinter, M. A., acts at Poona, being relieved at Ghorpuri by the Rev. G. H. Lewis. Until the arrival of Mr. Lewis at Ghorpuri the Rev. W. Clarke, joint chaplain of Poona, visiting Yerrowda jail, will visit the military prison at Wanowrie. The Rev. C. H. Badham, B. A., chaplain of Nasirabad, has been appointed to be domestic chaplain to the Bishop during his tour of visitation to Neemuch.

From the Bombay Presidency Season Reports for the week just ended, it appears that rain has fallen in parts of Sind. The rabi prospects are unchanged. The standing crops are slightly injured by frost in parts of Hyderabad and Upper Sind Frontier, and by rats in one taluka of Nasik. A scarcity of fodder continues in several talukas of Dharwar, Belgaum, and Kaladgi, and of drinking water in parts of Dharwar and Belgaum. There is cholera in parts of four districts; cattle-disease in parts of eight, and fever and small-pox in parts of twelve, districts

With five exceptions, viz., the Prime Minister (forbidden by his doctor), the Lord Chancellor, Lord Spencer, Mr. Childers, Mr. Trevelyan (who have other engagements), all the members of the Cabinet will be present at the National Liberal Club banquet to the Marquis of Ripon on Feb. 25. In addition to Lords Granville, Derby, Northbrook, Kimberley, Carlingford, and Hartington, Sir William Harcourt, and Sir Charles Dilke, Bart., Mr. Chamberlain, Mr. Shaw Lefevre, and Mr. J. K. Cross, the following noblemen and members of Parliament have already applied for tickets, viz.:—Lord Reay, Governor elect of Bombay; the Earl of Dalhousie, Sir John B. Phear, Messrs. William Agnew, M.P., George Armitstead, M.P., William E. Briggs, M.P., William C. Borlase, M.P., Thomas Burt, M.P., R. K. Causton, M.P., J. Dodds, M.P., R. T. Reid, M.P., J. The Daily News stated on January 8 that applications for tickets are reaching the secretary of the National Liberal Club in large numbers by every postal delivery.

It is stated that orders have been issued by the local Government for the complete demolition of the Dilkusha Palace at Lucknow. The palace was built by Saadut Ali Khan about the year 1800, and stands on the highest point in cantonments, surrounded by a well-kept garden and the graves of many officers and men who fell at the final capture of the city. It is now a ruin, but is still a picturesque object and not without some historical interest. The prospect of its removal is said to be extremely distasteful to the Lucknow public, and in the absence of any information as to the motives of the Government it can only be looked upon as an act of needless Vandalism.

ATTENTION is being given in the Punjab to the large quantity of box-wood which is to be found in various parts of the province. It is estimated that the total area known at present to be covered with box-wood is 1,300 acres. Only a part of this area contains pure box forest; in other parts the tree is found mixed up with other faster-growing trees, in consequence of which it becomes stunted. It is calculated that there are at present 7,777 mature trees, above two feet in girth; and the growing stock is estimated at about 17,500 trees. Prices vary from Rs. 102 at Jheelum to Rs. 196 per ton at Umritsur and Simla; while in London box-wood fetches £22 per ton. Including carriage to the port of shipment, it is estimated that the cost would be equivalent to £18 8s. 8d. per ton, which would give a much better profit than if the wood were sold in the local markets. It is not considered possible to secure at present an annually recurring outturn, owing to the difficulties of working, but it is proposed to make four cuttings, one in 1884-85, another in 1891-92, another in 1899-1903, and a fourth in 1906-07. In the meantime experiments with regard to the reproduction of the tree have been instituted in all the forest divisions where it flourishes, and orders have been given for the strict protection of box-wood forests.

THE question of the legality of the arrest of Mr. Walker, planter, Purneah, is likely to be submitted to the Bengal Government, the High Court having decided that it had no jurisdiction in the matter. When the question came before the High Court, the counsel for Mr. Walker argued that the acquittal was totally irregular, as Mr. Brett, the Sessions Judge, never took the opinion of the assessors before abruptly closing the proceedings by saying to the prisoner "I acquit you," and then leaving the bench. Further the judge struck out the counts charging the prisoner, with having insulted and defamed Mr. Walker, whereas the prosecution had a full right to offer evidence upon them. Mr. Evans, the counsel for Mr. Walker, pointed out to the High Court the great importance of a matter which nearly concerned the comfort and liberty of the whole of the people of India. It was no race question, but one in which Europeans and natives were equally interested; for if the police thought they could use their power to gratify private spite, native gentlemen would undoubtedly suffer just as Mr. Walker had suffered. Justices McDonell and Macpherson, who heard the application, held that there was a trial under section 220 of the Code and an acquittal, which could only be set aside on appeal to the local Government. They would, however, take time to consider whether a rule should issue to the judge to show cause why he should not proceed with the charges he had struck out.

IT appears that the widow of the composer Rossini left a sum of £48,0o0 in 1878 to the Public Charity Department of Paris, chiefly for the purpose of establishing a system of relief for aged and starving chorus-singers, whether Italian or French. This generous bequest was to be paid over within five years. In 1883 M. Question received the money from the executors; but no steps have been taken to apply it to the proper purpose, although there are grave cases of destitution amongst the class for which it was intended, and the Italian opera has this year furnished another contingent.

THE wine production of France for the year 1884 is given in the official statistics just issued at 34,780,726 hectolitres. This is more than a million less than that of 1883, but four millions more than that of 1882, and about three-and-a-half millions more than the average of the last five years. The result may therefore be pronounced satisfactory, the more so as the quality of the wine is above the average. The wine-planted area is, however, constantly lessening, in consequence of the ravages of the phylloxera. In 1874 there were 2,446,000 hectares of vineyards, but at the present time these do not cover more than 2,040,759 hectares. Last year alone the reduction, notwithstanding fresh plantings, was 55,000 hectares. To meet the deficiencies of the home production, there has been an increased manufacture of artificial wines, and also increased importations. As much as 2,385,000 hectolitres were last year produced by the addition of sugared water and by the fermentation of raisins. Up to the end of November the importations amounted to 7,219,000 hectolitres. One satisfactory feature is afforded by the increased cultivation in Algeria, from which 896,291 hectolitres were last year obtained.

THE indigo-planters of Tirhoot are interesting themselves in the Bengal Tenancy Bill, and a few days ago they presented a memorial to the Viceroy on the subject. Special reference was made to the transferability of occupancy rights by the ryot, and it was urged that such transfers should be legalised under the Bill. The memorialists believed the Government of Bengal intended to withhold the legal right from the ryot to transfer his holding, and they therefore appealed to the Viceroy to save what was originally one of the main principles of the Bill. Lord Dufferin promised to give the matter his careful consideration

THE Chinese tea season is now practically over, and the total exports up to the 6th of January amount to 138,888,470lbs. This quantity includes 60,677lbs exported from Japan. The total exports up to the same date in 1883 and 1884, respectively, were 140,277,794lbs. and 149,970,736lbs. The shipments from Shanghai to Bombay in the present season came to 1,851,070lbs. against 1,326,086lbs. last year. There has been an increase in the trade with the United States and Canada of no less than eleven million pounds as compared with last year, the quantity now standing at 65,858,141lbs.

A TAILOR'S shop in Collins-street Melbourne, having a frontage of 33 feet, by a depth varying from 66 to 91 feet, has been sold for £26,000, or about £788 per foot. A portion of the late Mr. M'Kellar's property in the same street changed hands at £850 and £910 per foot. These prices would almost compare with the value of the most favoured sites in the city of London.

AN Austrian officer of high military position has sent to the Vienna Allgemeine Zeitung a piece of news surpassing in sensational interest anything recently published in the Paris Figaro. The most influential circles of the Russian Court at Gatchina, he affirms, are now eagerly discussing a project according to which the Czar proposes to assume the title of Emperor of Central Asia, and to be solemnly crowned in the autumn of 1887 at the sacred city of Samarcand, attended by all the Khans and Ameers now under the Russian sceptre. The writer adds that he is aware that he exposes himself with certainty to an official démenti for his indiscretion; but he maintains that, nevertheless, the news is perfectly accurate.

THE recent appointment of Sir Edwin Johnson to the post of Director-General of Military Education is severely criticised by Truth, which is good enough to remind the public that he was responsible for the incredible blunder made in under-estimating the expenses of the Afghan War. "The incarnation of Indian bureaucracy, and absolutely ignorant of everything connected with the English Army, he is suddenly entrusted, at a most critical period of its history, with the duty of superintending, during the next five years, the training and education of its officers, non-commissioned officers, and men."

long after his retirement he commenced to give guarantees. After his retirement from the firm he had never looked into their books. Beyond the advice which he occasionally gave to Nursey, he did not know anything of the affairs of the firm.

Continuing his evidence, Kessowjee Naik said,—At the end of Samvat 1933 there was a debit balance against me of twenty-one lakhs. This sum was debited to me for my share, which remained with Nursey Kessowjee and Co. The books of the company were kept in the office at Mandvee-bunder. I never went there except at Dewall time to worship the books, or when any of Nursey Kessowjee's family was ill. My books remained with the firm up to the time of their failing. They also managed my estates.

What balance do you now claim from Nursey Kessowjee and Co?

About six lakhs. In December Nursey Kessowjee bought 300 New Fleming at the rate of Rs. 500 each. Nursey paid Rs. 100 for each share, while I afterwards paid the rest. I gave Sakarchand two lakhs to take up the shares, as they had risen Rs. 10.

Would you have entered into that transaction if you had known that Nursey Kessowjee and Co. were in hard current circumstances or had large sums of money belonging to Fleming and Co.?

No.—I would not have.

Did you lose all that sum—two lakhs?

Yes, after the failure of Nursey Kessowjee and Co., I made over to the Bank of Bombay a large quantity of my immoveable property on account of bills guaranteed by me. I spent 17 lakhs on the property. I also made over some property to other persons in order to save my reputation. All my shares bought by Nursey Kessowjee were mortgaged by them. I lost 15 lakhs on those shares.

Had you much confidence in Nursey Kessowjee?

He is my son. He was given 7501 shares to mortgage, in order to raise money, on the 31st October, 1878, but up to the date of his failure he had not reported to the board that he had done so.

Cross-examined by Mr. Latham.—How much was your landed property worth when you retired?

About 27 or 28 lakhs. Upon the point of his giving the firm of Nursey Kessowjee and Co. every assistance he could, witness said.—I only used to be consulted by the firm. I gave advice to them. They used to consult me about opium transactions. I seldom wrote to the firm at Hongkong or sent telegrams to them. I had not any transactions with them.

Now, in their letter to you from Hongkong, they addressed you as "our honorable, our virtuous, and our respected patron Kessowjee Naik?"

Yes, if I would write to you, or anyone, I would address you in the same way. (Laughter.)

In the Alexandra and Fleming Co. Nursey Kessowjee was the secretary and agent?—Yes.

Now is it not the fact that you really were the secretary, and the commission belonged to you?

I never received a single pie in respect to the commission.

The learned counsel then drew Kessowjee Naik's attention to evidence he had given before Mr. Justice Kemball in March, 1879, in reference to the insolvency of Nursey Kessowjee and Co. On that occasion he said, "The commission of the Royal and Alexandra Companies did not belong to Nursey Kessowjee. I was the master, and did all the business. The firm only used his name. I was really the secretary, and the commission belonged to me. In the Colaba and Nursey Mills, Nursey Kessowjee's name was used from the first, and the commission and secretaryship belong to him."

Now, is that true?

Witness.—Yes, it is; but I will explain what it meant.

But is it not a fact that Nursey was appointed as agent, secretary, and treasurer to those mills?

Yes, because he is my son; but I never got a single pie of the commission? I knew that the firm was in good circumstances, and was making a good profit.

That this stage the case was adjourned.

THE PUNJAB.

WEDDING AT FEROZEPORE.—Captain Hipburne, the popular Adjutant of the Royal Artillery, Meean Meer, was married at Ferozepore on the 21st instant. The bride and bridegroom were driven in Ferozepore and from Meean Meer station to their house in carriages drawn by three pairs of horses, the drivers being subalterns of the Royal Artillery.

Holloway's Pills.—The sudden changes, frequent fogs, and pervading dampness sorely impede the vital functions and conduce to illhealth. The remedy for these diseases lies in some purifying medicine, like these Pills, which is competent to grapple with the mischief at its source, and stamp it out without fretting the nerves and weakening the system. Holloway's Pills extract from the blood all noxious matters, regulate the action of every disordered organ, stimulate the liver and kidneys, and relax the bowels. In curing chest complaints these Pills are remarkably effective, especially when aided by friction of the Ointment on the walls. This double treatment will ensure a certain steady, and beneficent progress, and sound health will soon be re-established.
